Is your business stagnant? Having trouble figuring what is holding your business back? Ready to start growing your business, rather than surviving? Then you NEED to hear Richard Flint's AMAZING leadership program, Treating Your Business Like a Business! Change the future of your business, change the future of your life.

Let's face it, a real business is not a playroom. It is a workroom defined by a solid work ethic, the implementing of the right behavior and a "never can die attitude." Many people who start their own business fail because they can't manage themselves. Until your business becomes a business, it is simply a thought you keep throwing money at hoping something will happen. It is time to get serious. Join Richard for this in-depth look at running your business as a business, rather than pretending you are a business owner.

Richard's proven techniques include:

- The 8 all-tell indicators that you aren't treating your business like a business
 - What 4 things you can do immediately to start taking control of your business
 - 10 principles for making your business a real business
